Pets on Parade

THE MEETING WILL COME TO ORDER—These pet aristocrats of dogdom got together recently to plan a series of dog shows in Bay St. Louis. After reaching a decision, however, they took time out for their photograph. (Clockwise from top left) are Kallina, a collie; Ripper, a pit-bull; Frank, a boxer; a boxer; Sandy, a boxer; and Apache, a Bedlington terrier.

PLAYFUL PUMA—Most housewives might find it disconcerting to have a 350-lb. puma breathing on them when they wash dishes, but not Mrs. Melvin Kootz, of Thousand Oaks, Calif. This unusual pet, named Kimbo, is five years old and consumes 10 lbs. of horse meat and a gallon of milk daily.

BIRD WATCHER—Boots, the boxer, looks as though he's afraid of an attack, but his parakeet friend, Pete, is just amazed at the water. Boots slurps from the kitchen faucet. The two are great friends, according to owner Marty Gronsch, of Queens, N. Y. (AP Wirephoto)

CONTRACTORS' PET—These two International earth-moving giants are favorites of contractors who want to move tons of earth in a hurry at low cost. This big 362 h.p. International Model T5 Payscraper, capable of hauling 22 cu. yds. of material at speeds to 24 m.p.h., is shown being push-loaded by another favorite of contractors, the International TD-24 diesel torque converter crawler tractor which develops 200 net engine h.p.

of construction of the dam. The A swan project is still in the nature of a proposal, since a number of problems are yet to be settled. Among them, a division of water with the Sudan and willingness of Egyptians to meet conditions laid down by United States, United Kingdom, and the International Bank. Also, the spirit of cooperation between Egypt and the American and British governments has lessened in recent months.

The $56.4 million proposed grant is included in the 1956-57 ICA budget. It is anticipated that the United States would furnish most, if not all, the remaining $120 million for later construction of the dam.

Eastland Introduces Amendment To Mutual Security Act

Washington, D. C. — Senator James O. Eastland, D. Miss., has introduced an amendment to the Mutual Security Act cutting off funds which might be used to increase foreign cotton production to compete with the United States.

"Not only are we being asked to give away tax money, but we are also expected to provide the dollars to strangle the Southern cotton farmer out of business—dollars for our own crucifixion," he declared.

The amendment is aimed particularly at Egypt, where the proposed A swan Dam project is expected to raise farm acreage in that country at the rate of 100,000 acres a year for the next 20 years.

"We know that a lot of that additional acreage will be used for cotton," Senator Eastland said. "And even if only half is planted in cotton that will mean an additional million bales on the world market in 20 years, since Egypt produces a bale to the acre."

Egypt presently has six million acres in cultivation by using some 60 per cent of water from the Nile River. The dam project would raise irrigation water from the Nile to 100 per cent.

"In the past Egyptians have shown a tendency to reduce their wheat production in favor of cotton if there was a chance of getting wheat from other sources," Senator Eastland pointed out.

He said that in the 1955 crop land under such an agreement are termed expendable and may be used for school purposes and improving the 16th section land by clearing, draining, reforesting or otherwise.

For its services, the Mississippi Forestry Commission is entitled to receive its actual expenses incurred in the discharge of the duties connected with managing the timber. The expenses are paid from the proceeds of timber sales with the expense not to exceed ten percent of the gross receipts from such sales in any one year.

Counties who have already signed agreements with the Mississippi Forestry Commission are—Stone, George and Greene. Other counties that are eligible include Forrest, Jackson, Jones, Marion, Pearl River, Wayne, Amite, Copiah, Franklin, Jefferson, Lincoln and Wilkinson counties.

On the "FIRST STRING" now...

Since the first big "strike" found the Tinsley oil field less than 17 years ago, the oil and gas industry has earned a place on Mississippi's "first string" industrial team. Like any rookie team on success, this young industry has put a lot into its upward struggle... more than one billion dollars. It continues to "bustle," boosting Mississippi's industrial "baiting average" by more than $100 million annually in payrolls, taxes, local purchases, direct lease and royalty payments to Mississippians.

A true "team player," Mississippi's oil and gas industry is carrying its fair share of the load at both county and state levels.

Today's "leading" show only the two highly skilled players—agriculture and timber—abundant of oil and gas. The rookie has made the "first string" now... and has a great potential for further growth. With a continued fat stake from tax and support, the oil and gas industry will continue to increase the economic "baiting power" of Mississippi's industrial team.

Mississippi Highway Accidents Decreased

Mississippi highway accidents have decreased since the start of Slow Down and Live the Nation's summer traffic safety campaign.

According to Commissioner of Public Safety Tom Scarborough, head of the state highway patrol, a decrease of 34.1 per cent in traffic fatalities was noted two weeks after the campaign started. A decrease of 18.2 per cent was noted at the first week period's close.

When the Slow Down and Live the Nation's campaign started, it was a "hurry" drivers-officially got underway May 30, Memorial Day, Mississippi's traffic death toll stood at 190 killed.

Two weeks later, June 12, the highway death count had climbed to 206—an increase of 16 dead.

The margin of increase, however, was less than that recorded for the first two weeks of the 1955 Slow Down and Live campaign when 26 persons died violently in traffic accidents between Memorial Day and June 12. This year's decrease is established on this basis.

Commissioner of Public Safety Scarborough has pledged the Highway Patrol's full resources in the all-out effort to reduce Mississippi's traffic toll. "Strict traffic law enforcement can be anticipated," he warned, explaining that radar will be used extensively by Patrolmen.

Slow down and Live, directed at "speed" violations, is being observed nationally. All 48 governors, including Gov. J. P. Coleman, have pledged their state's support.

The campaign target is the "in-a-hurry" motorist too impatient to drive cautiously and carefully.

some of the things which will be taken from this area.

They will be joined at major stops along the way by the girl scouts from other councils until they reach Detroit where they will be taken by bus to the camp site. At the Highland State Recreational Park. Here they will meet and camp with girls from all over the United States and some teams from foreign countries. CREEL LIMIT ON GAME FISH

Considerable amount of confusion has arisen among the anglers of the State with reference to the creel limit on game fish, according to Rex McRaney, Executive Director of the Game and Fish Commission.

House Bill No. 394 passed at the recent session of the Legislature permits anglers to take 50 game fish of one kind in any day but not more than 75 of all kinds in one day. However, the Game and Fish Commission deemed it necessary to reduce the creel limit, and acting under the authority vested in the Commission by Section 5848 of the Game and Fish Code, have set the limit as follows:

Black Bass	15 per day
Striped Bass	15 per day
Crappie or White Perch	20 per day
Bream, Goggle-eye and all other Sunfish or combination of all	50 per day
Aggregate Daily Bag Limit	75 per day
Possession Limit—Not more than two daily bag limits or 150 in the aggregate of all kinds.

FISHING LICENSES DUE

DEDICATION HELD AT CORINTH FOR WURLITZER PIANO PLANT

Dedication ceremonies for the new $1,500,000 Rudolph Wurlitzer Company plant in Corinth were held recently. The musical instrument manufacturing company has been in business for 100 years, and currently is manufacturing a new type of electric piano. Mrs. Fayette Williams, Sr., of Corinth, was presented an award as "Mississippi's Mother of the Year" during the dedication ceremonies.

Mrs. Hill Guest Of Coast Group

Vicki Lannon Hill was the featured guest at the Sunbelt Country Club's Auxiliary card party and luncheon on last Tuesday in Biloxi.

Mrs. Hill was invited by the hostess for the day, Mrs. Stephen Sekul, to do an interpretation of Mary, Queen of Scots, in the cell scene, where the ill-fated Mary pleads for her life before her crafty cousin, Elizabeth. The drama is a gripping one, requiring deep emotion. Mrs. Hill has performed it before various groups along the Coast.

As a fitting background for such dramatic opportunity she has had special training in the art, speech and public speaking, in addition to many years of experience in amateur dramatics.

"However, I wish to state emphatically that I have not been in any 'Broadway productions' neither have I ever been a 'Broadway star' as any stretch of the imagination, by any stretch of the imagination, as was erroneously printed in a Gulf Coast paper recently," said Mrs. Hill.

"I have no idea how such an impression: originated, unless, perhaps it grew out of a circumstance in which I mentioned that originally the skit was written for two performers and prepared by me and Francett Day Jones, a former Broadway star, to enact together but due to illness it became necessary for Mrs. Jones to drop out and I was forced, thereby to condense the preparation into a monologue."

"I feel quite justified," continued Mrs. Hill, "in accepting any credit in the field, of amateur dramatics for effort, sacrifice or hard work and I am always happy to include my benefactor, the late Walter Perry Richardson, who worked patiently and tirelessly to instruct me in the use of dramatic art, but I have never intentionally indicated that I was or am a celebrity. This seems a trifle ludicrous and more than a trifle embarrassing."

"Recently" related Mrs. Hill, "in a newspaper article, I quoted Mary Cain of Summit, as having stated in a speech before the Mississippi Penwomen's Association that there were no 'Pirates' in the newspaper field today. I quite agree with Mrs. Cain, but the mistaken, misinformed or over-enthusiastic publicity chairman still remains. In most cases the chairman is an innocent person completely devoid of any literary or journalistic training and in a natural state of confusion mis-states or over-states. This refraction is not, however, aimed at making her lot any the more difficult or ingenuous, but simply a means of endeavoring to clear myself of responsibility in the matter. I am happy to speak or act before most groups who may feel that I have something of value or entertainment to offer and in the past have driven considerable distances at my own expense, to do so, but I must insist on being allowed to retain the dignity of honesty," ended the speaker.

Mrs. Hill at present is preparing a historic paper and patriotic monologue to be presented before a group in Jackson, Miss., during the early part of July.

FORD sets 500-mile record at Indianapolis Speedway

Again proves nobody outperforms Ford

...dramatic demonstration of the kind of performance and roadability that makes all your driving more fun in a Ford!

A Ford V-8 hurtled across the brick and asphalt surface of rough and testing Indianapolis Speedway, whirling through the tight turns and flailing over the straight stretches... to set a mark that no other car ever reached before!

Starting in Ford's second race, no other car could keep pace with one lap at Indianapolis. The Ford, led by one of Ford's top drivers, set the standard for speed.

Ford fully realizes that the welter of claims and counter claims about "racing victories" (many of them completely contradictory) must be confusing and disillusioning to the public. Ford ran this race against time, over the true "Classic" distance and at the most famous track in America, in order to dispel the cloud of doubt and disbelief and prove that no one outperforms Ford!

Ford de Paolo, leader of the team of drivers that piloted the winning Ford, states flatly: "No other stock car could have repeated this performance!" And Ford de Paolo should know, for he was the first driver to win the "500" Classic with a better than 100 m.p.h. average. And now he comes back with a group of drivers to establish a stock car record with the great '56 Ford!

Ford wrote this new mark large and bold in the record books. And the whole Ford did the trick. From the hood-full of throbbing horsepower to the road-hugging rear end, Ford demonstrated that it is what it takes to make your driving more enjoyable. Convince yourself that driving a Ford can be real fun. Test drive a '56 Ford. There's a set of keys waiting for you, to come in and see us soon.
